DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 13-15, 17-22, 24-25, drawn to a nucleic acid fragment encoding a plant lysophosphatidic acid acyltransferase and a method of overexpressing functional LPAAT in a plant.

Group II, claim(s) 13, 16-18, drawn to a fragment of at least 20 base pairs that hybridizes under conditions of unspecified stringency in a vector and cells transformed therewith.

Group III, claim(s) 13-15, 17-23, drawn to a nucleic acid fragment encoding a plant lysophosphatidic acid acyltransferase and a method of antisense expression in a plant.

The inventions listed as Groups I-III do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: The isolated nucleic acid fragment encoding a plant LPAAT of Groups I-II and the isolated nucleic acid fragments of at least 20 base pairs that hybridizes under conditions of unspecified stringency with a nucleic acid fragment encoding a plant lysophosphatidic acid acyltransferase of Group II have a different polynucleotide sequence structure. Further, there is no special technical feature linking Groups I-III because the special technical feature of an isolated fragment that hybridizes under conditions of unspecified stringency to a polynucleotide encoding a functional plant LPAAT is taught in the art. Lassner M.W. et al. Plant Physiology, 1995; Vol. 109, pages 1380-1394. Lassner teaches an isolated LPAAT encoding polynucleotide from Meadowform (Limnanthes sp.) expressed in transgenic rapeseed (See Abstract).

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I-II and III are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are the methods of sense and antisense expression of a fragment comprising a polynucleotide encoding a LPAAT protein from a plant and a fragment of a polynucleotide encoding a plant LPAAT of at least 20 nucleotides that hybridizes to the plant LPAAT polynucleotide under conditions of unspecified stringency that have different starting materials and end products, as in the case of Groups I and II, and the fragment of Group III that has a different polynucleotide structure from the polynucleotides used in the methods of Groups I-II.

Claims 13-15, 17-22 link(s) inventions I and II. The restriction requirement between the linked inventions is subject to the nonallowance of the linking claim(s), claims 13-15 and 17-22. Upon the allowance of the linking claim(s), the restriction requirement as to the linked inventions shall be withdrawn and any claim(s) depending from or otherwise including all the limitations of the allowable linking claim(s) will be entitled to examination in the instant application. Applicant(s) are advised that if any such claim(s) depending from or including all the limitations of the allowable linking claim(s) is/are presented in a continuation or divisional application, the claims of the continuation or divisional application may be subject to provisional statutory and/or nonstatutory double patenting rejections over the claims of the instant application. Where a restriction requirement is withdrawn, the provisions of 35 U.S.C. 121 are no longer applicable. In re Ziegler, 44 F.2d 1211, 1215, 170 USPQ 129, 131-32 (CCPA 1971). See also MPEP § 804.01.

Claims 13, 17-18 link(s) inventions I-II and III. The restriction requirement between the linked inventions is subject to the nonallowance of the linking claim(s), claims 13 and 17-18. Upon the allowance of the linking claim(s), the restriction requirement as to the linked inventions shall be withdrawn and any claim(s) depending from or otherwise including all the limitations of the allowable linking claim(s) will be entitled to examination in the instant application. Applicant(s) are advised that if any such claim(s) depending from or including all the limitations of the allowable linking claim(s) is/are presented in a continuation or divisional application, the claims of the continuation or divisional application may be subject to provisional statutory and/or nonstatutory double patenting rejections over the claims of the instant application. Where a restriction requirement is withdrawn, the provisions of 35 U.S.C. 121 are no longer applicable. In re Ziegler, 44 F.2d 1211, 1215, 170 USPQ 129, 131-32 (CCPA 1971). See also MPEP § 804.01.

Because the inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have required a separate status in the art as shown by their recognized divergent subject matter, and because the search required for one of the groups is not required for another, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37) CFR 1.143).

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
